

Newsletter 通訊

Event Highlights

"How to use e-commerce to explore the sales opportunity in China market" seminar completed successfully on 29 April 2016. Cross-border commerce via the Internet has become the latest trend. In the seminar, we invited four professionals to share the tips for the operation of cross-border business with internet in different field from ERP systems, online export platform, taxation to data network.

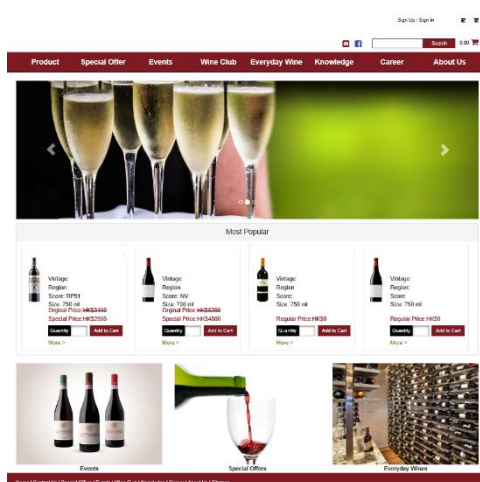

Join us in Facebook

Click the icons to join our social media channel for latest news of Techland and the I.T. industry:

TecE One-stop Manage Online and Offline Business

With the Internet booming, many traditional trader and manufacturers will use web portal and mobile app to expand their sales channels. In recent years, Techland has helped a number of clients developing online store and mobile app which can be fully integrated with TecE ERP system. They can manage their online and offline orders in TecE one-stop platform which improve working efficiency greatly. To learn more, please call us at 2416-6711, thank you.

Offline Backup to Avoid Data Loss from "Ransomware"

Recently, some clients reported to us that their computer system was infected by "Ransomware". "Ransomware" is a malware which will encrypt the files in the affected system, the user have to pay ransom for decryption. Although, we can help to re-install the TecE system for the clients, however we cannot recover the data if the back-up data are stored in the computer which was infected by Ransomware.

We would like to remind you that computer security is very important to protect your IT assets. In addition to have updated anti-virus software and firewall, you should also backup your data regularly and stored them on an external device or offline to prevent infection by the virus. For any data backup issue, please call our technical colleague at 2416-6711.

